Fun Facts: Porcupines can live in deserts, mountains, and rainforests. A baby porcupine is called a porcupette. (How cute is that?) when it is born, a baby has soft quills, which get hard after a few days. Porcupines like to sleep during the day and go out at night. Porcupines eat plants, like wood, stems, nuts, seeds, grass, leaves, fruit and buds.

Circle the things this porcupette would like for a snack;
put an X through what she would NOT want.
